Case Study

Reference problem:

"At first glance, absolutely no security problem at all."

Client: production company, more than 150 employees

Solution:

Use of the user's activity monitoring test ("HR Audit") showed a significant breach of duties of the key employee. In this case, after analyzing the data, the volume and the structure of all email attachments, it turned out that the commercial director was redirecting almost all contracts to his own company.
